THE SULTANA OF THE NORTH, A PROGRESSIVE CITY WITH A CULTURAL VOCATION

Monterrey is the capital of the state of Nuevo León in northeastern Mexico. It is a sprawling industrial and business center surrounded by mountains and the third largest city in the country.

Monterrey is synonymous with industry, modernity, and progress. Also known as "The Sultana of the North," the city offers luxury hotels, a wide variety of restaurants, modern shopping malls, and the most modern convention and events center in Latin America.

However, Monterrey is much more than this, as it boasts a large number of museums and cultural events, as well as a variety of tourist attractions.

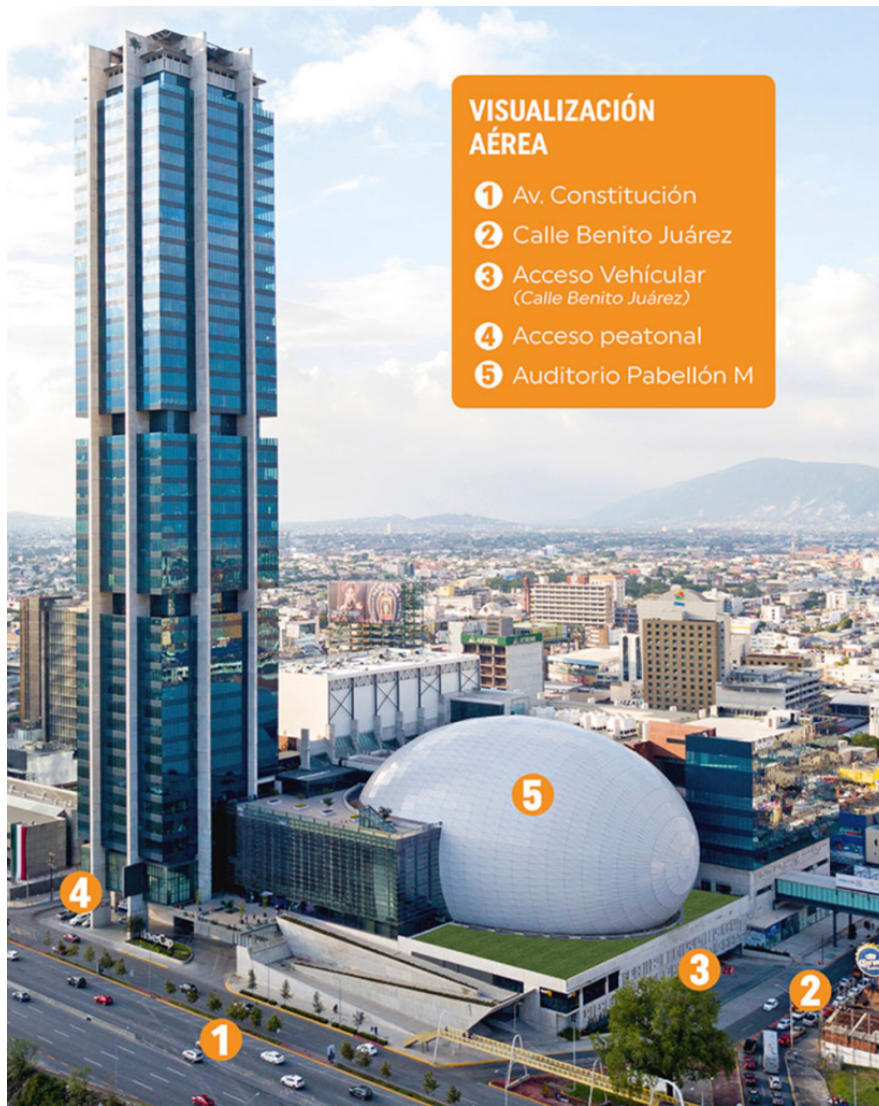

The city of Monterrey is surrounded by forests and mountains, beautiful landscapes that invite you to enjoy nature and engage in all kinds of outdoor activities. Today, the city is part of a large urban area made up of the municipalities of Santa Catarina, San Pedro Garza García, San Nicolás de los Garza, Guadalupe, General Escobedo, and Apodaca.

Today considered a global city, it is the country's second-largest business and financial center, as well as one of its most developed, cosmopolitan, and competitive cities. It serves as the industrial, commercial, and economic epicenter for northern Mexico.
